

UNDER A COPPER MOON

By GREG LILLY

At the beginning of the twentieth century, the New York Post branded Jerome, Arizona the "Wickedest Town in America."

From mine explosions, rowdy men, and enterprising prostitutes to Chinese slavery, opium dens, and a lonely sheriff, a young girl fights her way to independence and respect.

REVENGE FOR OLD TIMES' SAKE

By KRIS NERI

"A generous splash of Neri's cleaver humor, usual talent for suspense and plotting, larger than life-characters, and a school of dead bodies... you have the best Eaton story in some time and that's saying something. A sheer joy to read." – Boston Mystery Review

REVENGE OF THE GYPSY QUEEN

By KRIS NERI

"...the contrast between the lively Tracy and her repressed in-laws produces some one-liners that would make Fran Liebowitz proud. A fine first novel." – Booklist

FORTUNE ISLAND

By E.M. SCHORB

"Fortune Island tells the story of one Jessie Judas as she lives an isolated life on the Outer Banks of North Carolina. An intriguing novel of the psyche of one woman, Fortune Island is a riveting read that can't be put down." – Midwest Book Review

DEM BONES' REVENGE

By KRIS NERI

"...a real page-turner...Neri handles the ironic confusion with impetuous wit and just-to-the-brink hesitations. An enjoyable romp." – Library Journal

SCALPING THE RED ROCKS

By GREG LILLY

"SCALPING THE RED ROCKS is an exciting, well-written page-turner of a mystery, which will keep you guessing as you slowly learn more about each of its colorful, complex characters...I'll kick the red dust off my boots, and give this five full stars out of five!" – Bob Lind, Echo Magazine

LOVE ON THE BIG SCREEN

By WILLIAM J. TORGERSON

"In Love on the Big Screen, William Torgerson does for movies what Nick Hornby did for music in High Fidelity."

-Greg Downs, winner of the 2006 Flannery O'Connor Award

FATAL DEEDS

By ANDREW MCALEER

"In this new world of detective mysteries that is controlled by initials -- C.S.I. and D.N.A. it is refreshing to meet Detective Gus Churchill who operates in the style of Sam Spade or Nero Wolfe. I could envision Agatha Christie enjoying a cup of tea while reading McAleer's Fatal Deeds on a rainy day."

-- T.M. Murphy, author of The Belltown Mystery Series

HORSESHOE

By WILLIAM J. TORGERSON

"Welcome to Horseshoe, Indiana. In the tradition of Winesburg, Ohio, William Torgerson's new book links stories about big doings in a small town. With a style that is always engaging and often hilarious, Torgerson is like Sherwood Anderson with a sense of humor."

— Bryan Furuness, author of The Lost Episodes of Revie Bryson

WHO KILLED 20G?

By MARK PHIALAS

"In Trent Jones, the hero of WHO KILLED 20G?, Mark Phialas has turned loose a charming Southerner with an occasional knack for gambling, sporadic luck with the ladies, and an inevitable habit of getting hit on the head. Watching him figure out who killed 20G is as good as sweating your way through a triple overtime thriller in which your team wins."

- Will Blythe, author of To Hate Like This Is To Be Happy Forever

JASPER

By MICHELLE A. MOORE

"Something spookily magical goes on in this tale of a down-on-his-luck cat living a life on the edge, surrounded by troubled humans, vicious dogs, a poisonous snake and an owl with a heart of gold. I was tempted to read passages to my own cats Timmy and Jessie in the mad hope that they'd be affected by Jasper's compassion and be nicer to me."

—Pulitzer Prize winner Jules Feiffer, author of By the Side of the Road
